In his letter No. 5V.P. (10) /49 dt. 30-8-49, the Vegetable Oil Products Controller for India requests that in order to maintain the quality standards and specifications of vegetable oil products, the D.Ms. or other local officers empowered to do so~~o~~ should be asked to occasionally collect samples of vegetable oil products from sealed containers in stock with wholesalers and send them to the Public Analyst to Government~~h~~ for testing them and that if the report of the Analyst reveals that ^{the prescribed specifications, the party may be} the products does not conform to the~~y~~ prosecuted under the Vegetable Oil Products Control Order, 1947. The Dy. Secretary, Department of Commerce of the Saurashtra Government, however, refers to clause 8A of the Vegetable Oil Products Control Order, 1947, and remarks that the power conferred under the said clause is not sufficient to collect samples from the selected containers periodically especially when the officer collecting samples may not have any reason to suspect the commission of any breach of the Order.

R.L.A. is requested to advise whether the view taken by the Dy. Secretary, Commerce Department, Saurashtra Government, is correct.
